The Beautiful City of San Jose.

San Jose, the fourth town in California in point of population, according to the census, has now about 12,000 inhabitants. It is the chief town of Santa Clara County and of the large and rich valley of the same name. It is nearly 8 miles from Alviso, the navigable head of San Francisco Bay, and is 50 miles from this city. The corporation limits of San Jose contain about 3,750 acres of land. The real estate of the town was last year assessed at $4,763,795, and the improvements thereon, at $1,873,420—total, $6,637,215. The assessed value, though supposed to be the full vallue, is really about 25 per cent below the saleable price of the property, which is fully eight million dollars. The tax rate for city, county and state purposes last year was $1 52 on each $100 of valuation, or 2 cents more than this city. The best business streets of San Jose are included in the four blocks between Santa Clara, St. John, San Fernando, First, Second and Market streets. The best block in the town is that on which the Auzerais House stands, on the north side of Santa Clara street, between First and Market. A sale was recently made of a lot and old frame building on that street, just west of the hotel mentioned, at nearly $500 a front foot. This is the very highest price for which the best business lots would sell. The ruling rates for such property are from $250 to $500 per front foot; general depth, 137½ feet. Residence lots 5 to 10 minutes walk from the city centre, are worth from $20 to $50 per front foot. Commutation tickets between this city and San Jose are issued at the rate of $1 80 each; single fares, $2. Money is worth from 1 to 1½ per cent. per month in San Jose. The town is one of the most attractive in California. Its business streets have the stir and air of a large city. San José contains the finest and largest Court House in California; it cost $203,000. The Auzrais House is one of the largest hotels in the State. San Jose has two of the largest and finest bank buildings on the coast; one of them cost about $40,000; the other $52,000. In addition to these may be mentioned a third building, the new Savings Bank, now just completed, at a cost of $45,000. Few interior towns have a better prospect or better backing of solid agricultural and other wealth than San Jose.—S. F. Real Estate Circular.

THE FOLLY OF PRETENSE.—If God made you half a fool, it is better that you should seem to be half a fool than that you should make believe that you are wise. All animals are willing to seem what they are. An ass is always willing to be thought an ass; and he honors God in it. An owl is always willing to be thought an owl; and he fulfills the function given him, even if he does look wiser than he is. And a man should be willing to be just what God made him. Not that he should not desire to increase, to augment, his talents; not that he should not put his money out at interest; but a man who is ignorant had better admit himself to be ignorant. A man who is not a genius had better not think himself to be a genius. A man who is unskilled had better admit that he is unskilled. Whatever you are, while you strive for greater excellence, stand on that which is true and right, and do not make yourself out to be more than you are. Do not attempt to put on guises and pretenses, in the hope of winning praise. A man talks to me in such a way that I see through him in a moment. He is trying to make an impression on me about himself, or about this, that, or the other thing, and the moment the door is shut, I say, "What a fool he is to think that I could not see through him!" And yet I go straight to my neighbor's and try the same trick; and, when I am gone, he says, "What a fool!" And he goes to his neighbor, and does the same thing! Your character in the community is a thing fixed, definitely, and your reputation generally will be what your character is. Men see through your shams. They accommodate you, and call you what they think you want them to; they call you an eagle, or a peacock, or any other bird, as the case may be, to please you; but they laugh as soon as your back is turned; for they know what you are. It is false coin that you give, and you get false change, as well as false goods. It is far the best thing for one to attempt to be real, and to be willing to appear at just what he is worth.—H. W. Beecher.

ALL HAIL! CONNECTICUT.—The Connecticut election is the first utterance of the people's voice since the people, not in cities only, nor in towns, but in the country also, have come to a full knowledge of the Credit Mobilier bribery and the falsehoods of the foremost leaders of the Republican party (the two Vice-Presidents, the three Senators, and four or five chairmen of the principal committees of the House of Representatives); the refusal of the Republican party in the Forty-Second Congress to punish their crimes; the salary grab; President Grant's signing $100,000 into his private purse; his cynical abandonment of all pretense of civil service reform after that pretense had served its purpose in promoting his re-election; and his subversion of the lawfully-elected Government of Louisiana. Upon that full knowledge the people of Connecticut have spoken, and their language is plain and unmistakable. Connecticut has elected the Democrat, Charles R. Ingersoll, Governor, by 4,000 majority. Compare that majority with the almost uninterrupted Republican majorities since 1856, and its great significance will appear. It is pointed by the fact that Gen. Hawley, who would not take part nor lot in the disgraceful conduct of his party, but denounced it, ran largely ahead of his ticket.

KISS ME, MAMMA.—"Kiss me, mamma, before I sleep." How simple a boon, yet how soothing to the little supplicants is that soft, gentle kiss. The little head sinks contentedly on the pillow, for all is peace and happiness within. The bright eyes close, and the rosy lip is reveling in the bright and sunny dreams of innocence. Yes, kiss it mamma, for that good-night kiss will linger in memory when the giver lies mouldering in the grave. The memory of a gentle mother's kiss has cheered the wanderer's pilgrimage, and has been the beacon light to illuminate his desolate heart; for remember, life has many a stormy billow to cross, many a thorny path to tread.

An Opportunity Lost.

"Suppose that on the morning of March 4th, when the bill increasing salaries was handed to President Grant he had, instead of signing it, sent it back to the House of Representatives with such a message as the following: I return herewith the bill providing for an increase of salaries without my signature, which I withold for the following reasons:

"1. This bill gives me $50,000 a year for the next four years without regard to the fact that when I accepted the nomination and election I contracted with the people to perform the duties of the office for $25,000 a year. It would be dishonest in me to draw any more by virtue of a bill passed as this one has been, and I refuse the proffer accordingly. Besides, apart from this decisive consideration, the question of increasing the President's salary was not discussed and decided by the people in the recent election, and I do not think that a measure of so serious a nature respecting the compensation of their public servants should ever be passed until they have had an opportunity of expressing their judgment upon it.

"2. I also disapprove of this bill because it increases the pay of members of Congress for a period of service already performed and already paid for. This appears to me to be a more flagrant invasion of popular rights and of the principles of common honesty even than that clause in it which doubles the President's salary."

Suppose President Grant had possessed intelligence and honor enough to send in such a message as this, what a great man he would be in reality. As it is we shall have but little confidence either in the intelligence or honesty of the masses of the Republican party if they do not manifest in some emphatic manner their disapproval of Grant's conduct in sanctioning the great outrage perpetrated by Congress just before its adjournment.

GENERAL CANBY A CALIFORNIA PIONEER.—S. H. Willey, in a communication in the Santa Cruz Sentinel, says that General Canby arrived in California in February, 1849, by the first steamer of the Pacific Mail Line, and adds: "It may almost be said that there was no law; that there were no officers, no courts, no court-houses, and no jail or prisons. The engineering of civil affairs out of this chaos, through these dangers, so far from the influences and support of the home Government, fell largely to the lot of Gen. Halleck and Gen. Canby. They were the two thinking men who did the greater share of the work. They were together continually. They thought and studied, and consulted and planned, and generally what they agreed upon Gen. Riley sanctioned. They traveled together, making the tour of the mines and the towns, and got acquainted with the people and learned what was wanted and who could be depended on. In this way they helped to prepare the public mind for taking the responsibility without any authority from Congress to call a constitutional convention and organize a State. The work of the convention itself was in no small degree laid out and made ready beforehand by these men. When the convention met it was done promptly, and done so well that it has served the purpose of the State, with few changes, to this day. It was no accident that work of so delicate and difficult a nature was so admirably accomplished in a time like that. And no men had more to do with it than General Halleck and General Canby."

THE WARRIORS SUMMONED.—It appears that Lung Si Tong, of this city, is the Supreme Head and Great Ruler of all the Chinamen on this coast. His word is law, and when he opens his chops no Chow Chow dare bow wow. No Chinese company dares to disobey his orders. His power is illustrated in the submissive obedience with which his orders were obeyed in the matter of the difficulty among the Chinese at Sacramento. The origin of the trouble between the companies is not known among white people, but it is well understood that fighting men have been gathering at the Capital for weeks from all parts of the State for the purpose of having a grand and bloody battle. The whole show has been brought to a sudden stand still by an order from Lung Si Tong for no man to strike a blow until he investigates the cause of the trouble. He has commanded the young men to appear before him and state their cause of grievance. In answer to the command a large number of youths have come down from Sacramento. The Great Mogul will look into matters, and if he finds there is cause for battle he will let slip the dogs of war, and the miasmic atmosphere of Sacramento will be filled with detached cues and unhitched limbs, and her low streets and back alleys will run with blood, while the tops of the fuzzy cottonwoods will quiver with the ascending ghosts of the sons of Confucius.—S. F. Post.

THREE DRAY LOADS OF LEPERS.—On that day, March 25th, we saw something perhaps sadder than the hanging of one man; we saw thirty of our creatures going to a dread exile from which we can never hope to see one of them return. We saw going down our main street three dray loads—not of sheep, but of lepers. Three dray loads of festering humanity. Three dray loads of bloated, blotched faces, with crooked claws and foul exuding sores. Three dray loads of poor, decaying human wretches, who are dead to all sweet hope of life for evermore. Three dray loads of hideous woe, put on board the Warwick to be ferried over to that last home on Molokai, on whose everlasting portals in the mountain walls must truly be written for the poor lepers: "Ye who enter here must leave all hope behind." And yet it is the best for them, and for us who are well, that it can be done; it needs must be done; it ought to have been more fully done before; because there was but a handful to our observation a few years ago, and now there are perhaps not less than one thousand—aye, ever so many dray loads more. More work for the Government—more opportunity for their activity; and rightful activity too; but is it not sad to have only to note their activity in hanging and exiling their fellow men?—Honolulu Nuhou.

"The Rocks Swarmed with Modocs!"

The war correspondents have made this Modoc business ridiculous, despite the gloomy shadows thrown around it by the massacre of the Peace Commissioners. It is bad enough to have a beggarly handful of Indians set the United States Government at defiance, and hold their own for months against ten times their number of American regulars, backed up by mortars, howitzers and all the paraphernalia of war, without being compelled to read flaming reports about terrific battles, in which one man was killed and another wounded. Daily, since the melancholy death of General Canby, the public has been treated to this nauseous and humiliating stuff, proclaiming the fiereeness of the conflict and the heroism of the boys in blue, while the result in killed and wounded on both sides finally whittles down to the next thing to nothing. The idea of a general engagement from 5 o'clock in the morning till 7 at night, with all its sensational accompaniments of "sheets of flame all along the line," rattling musketry, soul-stirring charges, and acts of individual valor which stir the sluggish currents of our blood, followed by the announcement that "it is believed two Modocs have been killed," is enough to excite mingled feelings of disappointment, ridicule and humiliation. This thing occurred, if we are to believe the graphic correspondents, the day following the massacre of the Commissioners, and has been repeated nearly every day since. Then we were treated to a description of the desperate charge made on Colonel Mason's lines by six Indians, and told how gallantly they were repulsed. There was nobody hurt, it is true, in this dreadful affair; but it was heralded through the press with a flourish of scribbling trumpets as something to be proud of. And now, after two weeks of terrific fighting, it seems that Captain Jack has outgeneraled General Gillem; that a goodly portion of his seventy warriors have got away, and are now murdering and robbing settlers within sight of the military camps. We do not desire to find fault, and every allowance should be made for the advantages possessed by the Modocs in their natural fortifications; but it must be confessed that the crop of glory reaped in this wretched business is exceedingly thin. The simple truth is that the war on our part has thus far proved a miserable failure, and the flaming accounts sent out by the correspondents are placing us in a most ridiculous light.—S. F. Post.

HONOR THY MOTHER.—It was a cold dark night in winter. The wind blew, and the snow was whirled furiously about, seeking to hide itself beneath cloaks and hoods, and in the very hair of those who were out. A distinguished lecturer was to speak, and, notwithstanding the storm, the villagers very generally ventured forth to hear him.

William Annesly, buttoned up to his chin in his thick overcoat, accompanied his mother. It was difficult to walk through the fallen snow against the wind, and William said to his mother:

"Could'nt you walk easier if you took my arm?"

"Perhaps I could," his mother replied as she put her arm through his and drew up as closely as possible to him. Together they breasted the storm, the mother and the boy who had once been carried in her arms, but who had grown up so tall that she could lean on his. They had not walked very far when he said:

"I am very proud to-night mother."

"Proud that you can take care of me?" she said to him with a heart gushing with tenderness.

"This is the first time you have leaned upon me," said the happy boy.

There will be few hours in that child's life of more exalted pleasure than he enjoyed that evening even if he should live to old age, and should, in his manhood, lovingly provide for her who in his helpless infancy watched over him.

THE VIENNA EXHIBITION.—Those who intend going to Vienna will do well to brush up their geography, for the arrangement of the building is strictly based upon the succession of the nations in making the circuit of the earth. We learn that the nave or great axis of the building is made to run as nearly as possible east and west. The transepts, consequently, point north and south. The countries are then arranged according to the geographical positions on the earth. North and South America occupy the extreme western end of the building; England, and the countries of Western Europe come next, and so on till we get to the far eastern transepts, which are appropriated to China and Japan. By means of this arrangement any one possessing the most elementary notions of geography can find his way about with perfect ease. To give an example: if a visitor finds himself in one of the transepts belonging to France, and should want to go to the Chinese portion of the building, knowing, as he does, that China lies to the east of France on the surface of the globe, he has only to go to the nave, and turn toward the eastern end of the long axis, and walk till he sees the name of China hung up from the roof in large letters. If, on the other hand, he had wanted to visit the American department, he would have to perform precisely the same operations—turning, however, to the west instead of the east.

NO MORE KITCHEN THERE.—"My idea of heaven," said a worn out lady to us the other day, "is a place where there is no housekeeping or boarding houses." It may not be a theological, but it is a sensible view to the weary. This business of providing for our daily wants wears out the souls and bodies of our wives and children, and bids fair to become the skeleton in every man's household. Nor is it easy to provide a remedy; money will not buy help. Pay what you will, in some way or other you are the servant of your servants, and find that your home comfort depends upon your kitchen. This question of how to live, is rapidly becoming the great social problem of our times, not only in the United States but in Europe. The idea of general equality spreads like pestilence, until the whole organization of society topples from top to bottom. What the upshot will be it is impossible to foresee, but one thing is certain, the solution is approaching pretty rapidly, and while waiting for its appearance we may as well exclaim with the liturgy "Good Lord deliver us."

Election Laws.

54. Every person who, with intent to promote the election of himself or any other person, either—

1. Furnishes entertainment at his expense to any meeting of electors previous to or during an election;

2. Pays for, procures, or engages to pay for any such entertainment;

3. Furnishes or engages to pay or deliver any money or property for the purpose of procuring the attendance of voters at the polls, or for the purpose of compensating any person for procuring attendance of voters at the polls, except for the conveyance of voters who are sick or infirm;

4. Furnishes or engages to pay or deliver any money or property for any purpose intended to promote the election of any candidate, except for the expenses of holding and conducting public meetings for the discussion of public questions and of printing and circulating ballots, handbills, and other papers previous to such election, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

55. Every person who, being a candidate at any election, offers or agrees to appoint or procure the appointment of any particular person to office, as an inducement or consideration for any person to vote for, or procuring the election of such candidate, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

56. Every person, not being a candidate, who communicates any offer, made in violation of the last section, to any person, with intent to induce him to vote for, or to procure or aid in procuring the election of the candidate making the offer, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

57. Every person who gives or offers a bribe to any officer or member of any legislative caucus, political convention, committee, primary election or political gathering of any kind, held for the purpose of nominating candidates for offices of honor, trust or profit, in this State, with intent to influence the person to whom such bribe is given or offered to be more favorable to one candidate than another, and every person member of either of the bodies in this section mentioned, who receives or offers to receive any such bribe, is punishable by imprisonment in the State Prison not less than one nor more than fourteen years.

61. Every person who wilfully violates any of the provisions of the laws of this State relative to elections, is, unless a different punishment for such violation is prescribed by this Code, punishable by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the State Prison not exceeding five years, or by both.

WILD BOARS.—The tules and marshes in the vicinity of this city, have for some years past been infested with hogs, which, for ferocity and viciousness, almost vie with the wild boars of Europe. They are held in dread by man and beast, and are seldom aroused from their lairs with impunity, and then only by the boldest and most daring of men who are armed from head to foot. For many years these hogs have been found around the margin of the bay, and are frequently seen in numbers. The race doubtless originated from some hogs escaping from their owner, and straying off resolved to set up for themselves. Not being under the immediate control of man, they, by degrees, naturally became savage, and after a generation or so returned to their original wild state, "such as a creation's dawn beheld." They have become wild through a natural process, and if let alone and allowed to increase would make excellent hunting in a few years, as they are sufficiently savage to make a good fight when pressed. They act very much as though they thought the world owed them a living, for they make raids upon the neighboring farms, devastating fields of grain, gardens, etc., at an alarming rate. Thus they become the enemy of the farmer, who follows and slays them whenever the opportunity presents itself. Several have been killed that we know of. They weighed between two and three hundred pounds and were armed with tremendous tusks. If it were not for the depredations they commit, we would like to see this race of wild boars increase, as for hunting purposes they are admirable, making it very exciting.—Vallejo Independent.

COLD BATHING.—Just now there is a reaction against daily cold bathing. A medical man cautions his patients against too frequent bathing, for fear the oil may be removed from the skin. He tells them that twice a month during the Winter, and twice a week during the Summer are quite enough for anybody. A well-known writer has cautioned the world against the removal of the skin oil by too frequent bathing. This is an entire misapprehension. In hydropathic establishments the patients are sometimes bathed three or four times a day, yet never lose the oil of the skin in consequence. Pugilists, in preparing for the prize-ring, are bathed two or three times a day and rubbed with rough towels by the strongest arms. Heenan was bathed three or four times a day, and was rubbed by McDonald and Cusick with all the power of their strong arms fifteen minutes at a time, and with the roughest towels and brushes, and yet the account says that when he appeared in the ring his skin was as beautiful as a baby's. If cold water were used without soap, a bath every hour with the hardest friction, would only increase the secretion of oils.

"If the father generally talks money at home, he generally rears a family in worship of the almighty dollar; if he talks mainly horses, games and races, he breeds a batch of sportsmen; if fashion is the family altar, then the children are offered up as victims upon the altar. If a man makes his own fireside attractive he may reasonably hope to anchor his own children around it. My neighbor L—— makes himself the constant evening companion of his boys. The result is that his boys are never found in bad places. But if the father hears the clock strike eleven in the club-house, he need not be surprised if his boys hear it strike twelve in the gaming-room or the drinking saloon. If he puts the bottle on his own table, he need not wonder if a drunken son staggers in by and by at the front door. When the best friend that childhood and youth ought to have becomes their foe, the home becomes the starting post of moral ruin."

Words of Wisdom.

The speech of Senator Schurz on the Caldwell case is a masterly argument in defence of the resolution for the Kansas corruptionist's expulsion. The following words have a lesson in them:

"It is time that we should face the dangers which threaten this Republic. It has no monarchial traditions, no pretenders of historic right to disturb its repose and to plot its overthrow. It is not likely to succumb to the shock of force. But there have been republics whose original constitution was as healthy as ours, but which died after all of the slower disease of corruption and demoralization, and that decay of constitutional life and anarchy of power which always go hand in hand with them. It is time for us to keep in mind that it requires more to make and preserve a Republic than the mere absence of a King, and that a tribunal Republic decays in soul is apt to die first, while its outward form may still be lasting. I hope and trust that we are still far from that point, but no candid observer will deny that there are symptoms of a movement in that direction. But there are symptoms also which inspire the hope that the downward movement may soon be checked, and that perhaps the checking has already commenced. What is our office under circumstances like these? This is the Senate of the United States. When the American people struggle against the power of corruption, their Senate should march in the front rank to lead the advancing column. Their Senate should at least hold high its standing of purity and honor, which is to restore the waning confidence of the citizen in the integrity of the lawmakers. Whatever personal disagreements, whatever quarrel of party may divide us, this is higher than mere personal consideration, and higher than party, and in this at least the Senators of the United States should be unanimous.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL FREDRICK DENT GRANT.—From the Army and Navy Journal of the 29th of March, we copy the following in reference to the appointment of Second Lieutenant, Grant upon the staff of General Sheridan:

"There is little profit in criticising injustice for which there is no remedy, but it is not well to disguise the fact that great dissatisfaction has been created in the army by the promotion of a young Second-Lieutenant just from the Military Academy to the Lieutenant-General, in place of officers whose services and experience so much better entitle them to such a position."

This is the temperate comment of the Army Journal upon an act that to us seems utterly indefensible. Young Grant graduated among the lowest in his class, distinguished for nothing more honorable in his student's career than to have been foremost in persecuting the colored cadet, and for which he and others were severely reprimanded. Taken from West Point and sent in a Government vessel to Europe, under General Sherman, having seen no service in field or barracks, he is now promoted over the heads of veterans, men who have done there country great service and won for themselves great military reputation, to a rank he does not deserve.

Had this boy possessed the instincts of the true soldier he would have declined any favor from his father's great office, and would have been proud to rank among his fellows in his true position, shared with them the duties of his place, and carved out a name for himself. We wish General Grant could have remembered that he was Commander-In-Chief of a great army, and not the father of a Lieutenant. We wish he could have forgotten favoritism to his child in remembering that he was President of the Republic. The difference between General Grant and General Washington is, that one was father of his country, the other is father of a Second Lieutenant, with the spurious rank of Lieutenant-Colonel.—Chronicle.

HOW IT PAYS.—A New Jersey editor has been doing some close figuring on the congressional back pay business and has come to the following conclusions:

The late session commenced on the 2d of December and ended on the 4th of March, a period of ninety-two days. Thirteen Sundays intervened, and both houses adjourned over from the 22d of December to the 6th of January, which included twelve working days. Thus the actual number of days was reduced to sixty-seven. At the rate of $7,500 per annum that the members received, it will be seen that the pay of each amounted to more than $111.10 per day. Now, it is safe to say that the average number of hours they were in session did not exceed five per day, so that each member received $22.22 per hour, or a little over 37 cents per minute.

PROPOSED LEVEE.—The Chico Enterprise says: John Parrott, of San Francisco, was in Chico last week, and in regard to the proposed levee along the Chico and Sacramento he says the project is not only practicable, but that he will do much, and that there will be no difficulty in obtaining the funds necessary to the construction of the levee. It is an enterprise that will justify both Butte and Colusa counties to lend their aid. It is the construction of a levee from the high water mark of Chico creek, along said creek and the Sacramento river to a point on the river below French Crossing, some five or six miles below Princeton. The levee is to be of sufficient width to afford a good road. The proposition embraces the establishment of a joint stock company, issuing bonds of twenty years, running at a low rate of interest.

A HOTEL ON MOUNT DIABLO SUMMIT.—Says the Antioch Ledger: "It was reported some two years since that R. B. Woodward, the proprietor of the What Cheer House; Woodwards Gardens, Oak Knoll Ranch, etc., had purchased one hundred and sixty acres on the summit of Mount Diablo. It is now stated that he contemplates the erection of an observatory and hotel as soon as there are better facilities for reaching that point from San Francisco. Should the railroad be built from Oakland to Walnut Creek, this project would probably be carried out, and certainly it would be a paying investment. The time will come when Diablo will become as celebrated a resort for tourists as the famous White Mountains of New Hampshire."

The Yolo Democrat.

COUNTY AND TOWN OFFICIAL PAPER.

WOODLAND, CAL.:

Friday, May 2d, 1873.

CROWDED CUT.—"One Goose Ahead" is unavoidably crowded out till next week.

FIFTY sailor boarding-house keepers have been thrown into prison in New York for the violation of the U. S. Shipping Act.

IRRIGATION SCHEME.—The President has appointed Lieutenant-Colonel Barton H. Alexander and Major H. Mendell, of the Engineer Corps, members of the Commission to examine and report on a system of irrigation in the San Joaquin, Tulare and Sacramento Valleys.

CONTRADICTORY.—The Mail has now come to the very sage conclusion that the Democratic party is not dead after all. Strange that that paper should so often change its mind upon this subject. Perhaps the result of the late Connecticut election assisted it in arriving at the above conclusion.

ANOTHER DISEASE.—Another horse disease has made its appearance at Buffalo, New York. Veterinary surgeons pronounce it the result of the epizootic of last Fall. It attacks the animals' hoofs, and causes the flesh to burst, leaving large holes. In extreme cases, the animal loses the hoof entirely, and has to be killed.

DISAPPEARED.—Tyler Curtis, a prominent San Francisco business man and politician, has suddenly disappeared from that city. The conclusion seems to be that he had squandered his property by bad management and has absconded to escape the reproach of those who were his friends as long as his money lasted.

THE NARROW GAUGE RAILROAD MEETING.—Several persons from Woodland and vicinity were present at the Benicia Railroad meeting yesterday, when ground was broken there as the commencement of operations, and a large number of laborers set to work. We regret the impossibility of our attendance, but shall publish the proceedings in our next issue.

"LET US EXPLAIN," says the Mail, in reply to our exposure of its floundering blunders last week, and goes on to admit that if the Board had paid for publishing the delinquent tax list in that paper it would have transcended its powers under the law. That's it exactly. Now tell your readers that publications in the Democrat reach from two to four times as many readers as if published in the Mail and they will have the whole story in a nut shell.

SINGULAR.—The Examiner says that while the Legislature of South Carolina was composed of men who could read and write—we mean prior to the year 1861—the bill for stationery amounted to about $400 per session. Now, when composed of plantation negroes and a small sprinkling of carpet-baggers and a still smaller infusion of respectable white men, singular as it may appear, the bill for stationery last year amounted to the enormous sum of $16,000.

ANOTHER DISASTER.—On Saturday last a detachment of the troops at the Lava Beds were cut off by the wily Modocs in ambush, and from seventeen to twenty killed, including four commissioned officers, and eighteen wounded. Four dead Modocs had been found. Probably their position is one of the strongest in the world. And it is very evident that regulars are not the kind of troops to deal with them. Our troops will doubtless act with more caution in future.

GOLD.—Says the San Bernardino Guardian: And now, in time of profound peace, the people of the United States are informed that there has been a marked and rapid advance in the price of gold and consequent depreciation of Government securities. A mismanaged treasury department speculates at the expense of the toiling millions who pay taxes to support an administration which is little better than an organized system of monster monopolies—from Credit Mobilier down to Seneca Sandstone.

SMOTHERED TO DEATH.—This obituary notice appears in the Louisville Courier-Journal: "Died, in Washington recently, a little orphan boy named Civil Service Reform, who was apprenticed to the President last fall, just before the election. The President unfortunately put him to bed the other night, to sleep between Casey and Fred. Grant, who overlaid him, and the miserable little wretch was smothered to death. Editor of Harper's Weekly and other friends of the deceased will attend the funeral without further notice. Services by the Rev. Mr. Newman, Inspector of Consulates."

THE ONLY CHANGE NEEDED.—The New York World scouts the idea of abandoning the name of the Democratic party. Every true Democratic journal in the country will agree with our New York Contemporary. The Philadelphia Age suggests that the only change needed "to meet the true state of public affairs, will be for Radicalism to take the name of the "Credit Mobilier Party," while the Democratic party shall continue to represent the principles on which the Republic was founded, especially the one laid down by the first Democratic President as a test for every office-seeker: "Is he honest, is he capable, is he faithful to the Constitution?"

Cacheville Letter.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

CACHEVILLE, APRIL 28th, 1873.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT: I now have, for the first time, an opportunity of describing to you a portion of our county which has hitherto, to some extent, been overlooked; and which is certainly one of the most important parts of our county. The section of which I speak is in the vicinity of Cottonwood. At the present writing it presents a scene of magnificence; though the dearth of rain has been a public complaint all over the county. The fresh, green grain waving majestically over the level plain presents a beautiful picture; and the lofty mountains, towering triumphantly in the distance, add grandeur to the paradisical valley which nature has prepared as a prenary home for intelligible man. Heretofore, it has not been considered by many that these plains possessed the productive qualities equal to other portions of Yolo—that it was something like chance if the farmers succeeded in raising an average crop. It is true that, when we have favorable seasons, our crops exceed theirs; but this year theirs excel ours by a great deal. Mr. Robert Patterson has a field of wheat which stands on an average about four feet high, and will, without any more rain, yield thirty bushels per acre; as it is already headed out, stands about the right thickness on the ground, and the soil is moist enough to preserve its health till maturity. This is a fac simile of numerous fields in this section amounting to at least one thousand acres, within the area of two miles in either direction from Cottonwood. Though they are favored with many fields that promise abundant crops, there is much grain that will make nothing whatever without the assistance of rain. The barley crop, being early, looks well. The grain that looks the most promising is that which was sowed on summer-fallowed ground. Though the crickets are numerous in this locality they have not yet done any great mischief, but it is feared they will at a future time.

The small but lively town of Cottonwood is a place of increasing interest. Two blacksmith shops are busily engaged in repairing harvesting implements, as haying is almost, if not quite at hand. They have just manufactured a number of wagons, which goes to prove that the people are wide awake to their interests. Two stores seem to be well attended with custom; three saloons, also, seem to be well supplied with business; besides these there is one harness shop, one hotel, and one meat market.

A short distance from the town is the school, which is largely patronized. Among the attendants are many far advanced in educational branches. The schoolhouse is conveniently constructed, and well furnished with all that is desirable. They also have a well supplied library. Sunday School is held there every Sunday, and I must say, is largely attended, and much interest manifested. A sermon is delivered in the schoolroom every alternate Sunday by Rev. J. Gruell, who is listened to by large congregations—in fact, almost too large for the capacity of the edifice. Such evidence speaks well of any community. It presents a moral as well as an intelligent compliance with duty on the part of the people. But they need, beyond all things, a church—a capacious temple—so as to accommodate their immense congregations. With such an edifice they will find that they have added a great improvement both in appearance and in every other desirable respect to their neighborhood.

I deeply regret that my stay in that beautiful portion of our county was so limited. Nevertheless it was long enough to convince me that the country is fast improving; that the industrious farmers and mechanics will, by their perseverance, in the future be crowned victoriously with success.

As for Cacheville, I can only say that business rolls on as usual, notwithstanding the threatening drouth. The farmers still have hopes of reaping abundant crops. Implements are being repaired for the harvest, which is near at hand.

Good roads in this vicinity are becoming quite common. At this time teams are engaged in graveling the grade south of Cacheville, which has been recently built. This is much needed on many roads in the county, and would, if made general, be a great benefit to the traveling public.

Last Sunday a party of four, equipped with a "splendid skiff," started on a tour down the creek to witness the baptizing. Ere they journeyed far, their boat, owing to the swiftness of the current, upset, leaving them, after a severe ducking, to wade to the shore. The trip was postponed.

Ever and anon, A. B. C.

BE CANDID.—The Republican party organs generally try to misrepresent the true meaning of the Connecticut election, but the Boston Journal candidly says: "Unhappily, however, the unsatisfactory features of the result cannot be wholly set down to local causes. One of the worst blows was struck as far off as Washington, and was dealt by one of our own Massachusetts Republicans. The "salary steal," as the people universally call it, devised and engineered by General Butler, unquestionably had more to do toward paralyzing the efforts of Connecticut Republicans, keeping them away from the polls and even in some instances leading them to drop Democratic votes into the ballot box, than any of the other causes we have mentioned above. This is the price we pay for insolent demagogism in Congress. Let the lesson be taken to heart in season, before heavier and irreparable reverses are incurred."

THE ALDINE.—The Aldine for May is the most brilliant number of this superb magazine every issued. It opens with a magnificent marine picture, "The Lee Shore," by M. F. H. de Haas, who stands, by general consent, at the head of the marine painters of America, and who has never before equaled this drawing. We turn from this to a delicious drawing "Unbidden Guests," a group of kittens on the table of an epicure making havoc among the dishes. We have next "A Trout Brook," by Casilear, that goes winding and dashing on its way through the breezy woods. There are besides six spirited illustrations of New Chicago; the first the "New Post Office," a magnificent structure—and the others the "Pacific Hotel," the "Chamber of Commerce," the "Michigan Southern and Rock Island Passenger Depot," and the buildings of the Times and Tribune newspapers. There is also an admirable view of "The Drusenfall," a noted fall in Thuringia and a charming illustration by Dore, imbued with that grace he knows so well how to infuse. These are masterpieces. The Literature of the May number is as good as usual: "Mr. Bousall's Match-Making;" "The Flowers of May;" "Poe's Early Poems," "New Chicago." The poems are: "How he Saved St. Michael's," and "May." The editor gossips about "The Lee Shore," "A Trout Brook," "The Pine Marten," etc., and discusses that important question, "What shall we Name the Baby?" Music Art, and Literature are discussed. Subscription price $5 including Chromos "Village Belle" and "Crossing the Moor." James Sutton & Co., publishers, 58 Maiden Lane, New York.

MAY-DAY.—This happy day dawned bright and beautiful. The north wind that had been blowing the two previous days was changed to a delightful south breeze. The Turners were out in full force accompanied by the Hook & Ladder Company, headed by Prof. Ellis' Brass Band, and marched through to the picnic grounds where a good time was enjoyed by a large number of visitors. In the evening the Red Men's Ball was well attended, a large number of the members of Davisville and Sacramento Tribes participating.

THE CROPS.—Many talk as though there was now no possible chance for this years' wheat crop to amount to anything. We do not so regard it. A recent trip into the country revealed the fact that though in many fields it is very backward, yet it looks healthy in nearly all, bearing a good color and only needing rain. Excepting the lack of rain, the Spring has been cool and favorable, and as we usually get rain the fore part of May there is yet time for a fair crop to be realized.

NEW MUSIC.—From A. L. Bancroft & Co., dealers in music and all kinds of musical instruments, 721 Market street, San Francisco, we have received the following choice pieces of new music: "My Greeting," a song in German and English; "Joy and Happiness," a march; "Happy Though Alone," a song; and "Lead Her Tenderly," a song and chorus. Any kind of music or musical instrument can be obtained by addressing as above.

GROUND was broken Monday at San Diego on the Texas Pacific Railroad. Several speeches were made and assurance given that the road would be completed in time for Californians to visit the East by it to attend the Centennial celebration in Philadelphia in '76.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION TO WOODLAND.—The Sacramento Record says a moonlight excursion party will come from that city to Woodland on Friday evening, May 9th, and that a grand ball will be given in Washinton Hall by Messrs. Church & Jones.

TREASURER'S SETTLEMENT.—A. C. Kean, Treasurer of Yolo County, settled with the State Treasurer on Tuesday last by paying into the Treasury $16,867.38.

DESERVED.—The Mail gives the management of the College a rap over the knuckles for not having the printing of that institution done at home.

HEARD FROM.—J. T. Read and party who left this place a short time ago for New Mexico, have been heard from at a place about 75 miles from Santa Fe.

Ordinance No. 24.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE No. 11, entitled, "An Ordinance to fix the compensation of officers."

SECTION 1.—Ordinance No. 11 is amended so as to read as follows:

The Trustees of the Town of Woodland shall each receive the sum of One Dollar per annum.

The Marshal shall make a sworn statement to the Board of Trustees of all moneys received as fees allowed by law, at each regular monthly meeting of the Board. It shall then be the duty of the Board to allow a salary to said Marshal, in an amount—so that the whole amount of money received by him for his services shall be equal to Seventy-five dollars per month.

The Town Clerk shall be allowed for his services Three dollars for each meeting of the Board.

The Assessor shall receive for his services the sum of Four dollars per day for each day employed as Assessor.

The Treasurer shall, for his services, be allowed One per cent. on all moneys received by him.

SEC. 2. All drafts upon the Treasurer for money shall be drawn by an order signed by the President of the Board of Trustees and the Clerk.

COLEMAN'S Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus, is a preparation combining all the valuable medicinal properties of the Eucalyptus, and is acknowledged by grateful thousands to be the best remedy ever offered to the public for the cure of all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER AND URINARY CANAL, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS, as it seems to have a direct affinity for these organs and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.

It is also an invaluable EUCALYPTUS remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, ETC.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco, in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 405 Kearny st., San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the use of the usual quinine and arsenical remedies for those diseases are entirely avoided.

Beware of imitations, and take none but COLEMAN'S.

For sale everywhere, and by Chas. Langley & Co., Druggists, Agents, San Francisco.

STAR (*) NOTICES in the local column will hereafter be charged 10 cents a line for the first, and 5 cents a line for each subsequent insertion.

Hesperian College.

Next week will complete the college year of this institution. Following is the programme of the closing exercises which will commence on Monday morning and continue through the week:

MONDAY—Forenoon—Higher Arithmetic; Latin Grammar (Class B); Natural Philosophy. Afternoon—Geography; Sallust.

FRIDAY—Forenoon—Grammar (Class A); Botany; University Algebra.

The exercises will begin each day at half-past 8 o'clock, and close at twelve; afternoon at half-past 1 and close at 4. To give variety and interest to the examinations they will be interspersed throughout with literary exercises and music, both vocal and instrumental. On Wednesday evening there will be an exhibition of the Music Class; on Thursday evening of the class in Elocution and Gymnastics, and on Friday evening there will be an exhibition by the representatives chosen from the three classes. The exhibitions will be held at the Chapel of the College, and will commence a 8 o'clock P. M.

The public, and especially the friends and patrons of the school, are cordially invited to be present. The exercises will be both interesting and entertaining.

For the next college year several changes have been made in the Faculty of Hesperian College. Prof. J. M. Martin has again been called to the Presidency, Elder J. N. Pendegast having resigned that position. Prof. J. W. Webb, of the Preparatory Department, retires to assume other duties connected with the college and church; his place will be supplied by Prof. Hines, lately from the East. Mrs. C. L. Cross, who has had charge of the Primary Department, has resigned on account of failing health; vacancy not yet supplied. Prof's. Elston and Sturgis and Mrs. Carrol are retained. We are informed that the College is in a healthy financial condition, and it is expected that the coming year will be one of prosperity with the institution in every respect.

The annual meeting of the Trustees will be held on Wednesday next at the College Chapel.

CLOSING DISCOURSE.—Elder Cornell preached the closing discourse of quite a lengthy series last Sunday evening, with the expectation of starting out to labor in a new tent and in another field during the Summer months. The old tent was sold a few days ago, and one with a double top has been ordered in its stead.

SCIENTIFIC AND AMUSING.—Dr. Brenan, who has given a number of his interesting lectures in this place during the last two weeks to good audiences, will treat the people this (Friday) evening at Central Hall, to a very instructive and amusing lecture upon "The Absurdities of Human Nature."

INCREASING BUSINESS.—In consequence of their increasing business, Messrs. George Lewald & Co. have found it necessary to put an addition to the rear end of their store of forty feet. This will make it one of the most commodious stores in town.

TOWN ASSESSOR.—Having been solicited by several friends to allow my name to be presented as a candidate for Town Assessor at the approaching election, I have concluded to do so if the voters of the Town of Woodland desire it. D. B. GOODE.

CONFIRMATION.—The Most Rev. Joseph S. Alemany, Catholic Archbishop of San Francisco, will administer the rite of confirmation in Washington Hall, Woodland, on Sunday, May 11th. The public are invited.

SPIRITUAL LECTURES.—Mrs. Chamberlain will lecture in Central Hall at 7:45 o'clock on Saturday evening, upon the "Science of Life," and on Sunday at 3 P. M. upon a subject to be chosen by the audience.

EPISCOPAL SERVICE.—The Rev. Wm. H. Hill will hold Episcopal service in Good Templar Hall, in Woodland, on Sunday May 4th at 11 o'clock A. M. and 3 P. M. As Bishop Kip is expected to visit Woodland on the last Sunday in June, to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation, or "Laying on of Hands," the Rev. Mr. Hill will preach on that subject in the morning. At the afternoon service the subject will be "The Scriptural Mode of Baptism." All interested in the discussion of these important topics, or who wish to know what are the views of the Episcopal Church thereon are cordially invited to attend. In the evening Mr. Hill will preach at the church in Knights Landing.

ANNUAL TOWN ELECTION.—On Monday next, May 5th, the annual election of Town Officers will occur. There are to be voted for five Trustees, a Marshal, a Treasurer, and an Assessor and Collector. So far as we are aware there will be no party lines in this election. Probably a majority of the old Trustees will be reëlected, and some of the other officers too. The principal contest will be upon Marshal, for which office there are some half dozen candidates.

INSURANCE AGENCY.—J. L. Simpson now has the exclusive agency in this place for the Ætna and the Hartford Insurance Companies, the former having a capital of $3,000,000 and assets amounting to $5,980,867, and the latter a capital of $1,000,000 and assets $2,500,000. These are two of the oldest and most reliable Insurance Companies in this or any other country. Mr. Simpson is issuing policies for both.

ATTENTION!—A new store will be opened by L. Kaminsky, lately from New York, on or about the 15th of May, in the building at present occupied by Selig Hyman, opposite the Capital Hotel, with a large assortment of Boots and Shoes, and Ladies' and Gents' Furnishing Goods. Special attention of the public is called if they desire good bargains in his line.

PUBLIC SCHOOL TRUSTEE.—The election for Public School Trustee on Saturday last resulted in the choice of Judge James Johnson; Mr. R. B. Blowers being the only other candidate. The Judge has manifested great interest in our public school heretofore, and we have no doubt will prove an active and efficient Trustee.

SOON TO RETURN.—Our townsman, I. Hafky, has recently been heard from. He had established another Grove of Druids at Stuttgart, Germany, which will probably close his labors there in behalf of the Order for the present. He is expected to arrive home about the first of June.

DURING the past few years immense advances have been made in the study and practice of medicine, one of the most important discoveries being the curative properties of the Eucalyptus or Australian Gum Tree. Dr. Coleman's preparations of Eucalyptus, for the cure of Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever and all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, etc., have already acquired the position of standard medicines, and their formulæ will undoubtedly be found in all new editions of Medical Pharmacopia. They are the result of two years' hospital experiments, and are daily gaining in popularity.

"A WONDER OF MEDICAL SCIENCE," may well be applied to Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. It is nearly half a century since this remarkable remedy was introduced to the public, and yet the immediate and enviable reputation which it gained by its wonderful cures of coughs, colds, whooping-cough, sore throat, influenza, consumption, and all bronchial complaints, is to this day fully sustained.

Half Alive.

It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of no specific disease; they suffer no positive pain; but they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensuous pleasure to their more robust and energetic fellow beings.

In nine cases out of ten this state of lassitude and torpor arises from a morbid stomach. Indigestion destroys the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food, every organ is starved, every function interrupted.

Now, what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of depression? The system needs rousing and strengthening; not merely for an hour or two, to sink afterwards into a more pitiable condition than ever (as it assuredly would do if an ordinary alchoolic stimulant was resorted to), but radically and permanently.

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer to this question, founded on the unvarying experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given. Infuse new vigor into the digestive organs by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Do not waste time in administering temporary remedies, but wake the system up by recuperating the fountain head of physical strength and energy, the great organ upon which all the other organs depend for their nurture and support.

By the time that a dozen doses of the great vegetable tonic and invigorant have been taken, the feeble frame of the dyspeptic will begin to feel its benign influence. Appetite will be created, and with appetite the capacity to digest what it craves. Persevere until the cure is complete—until healthful blood, fit to be the material of flesh and muscle, bone and nerve and brain, flows through the channels of circulation, instead of the watery pabulum with which they have heretofore been imperfectly nourished. apl2-1m

BORN.

MARRIED.

In Woodland, at the residence of John Webber, May 1st, Robert B. Dedman, of Yolo county, to Mrs. Ella Cobb, of Sutter county.

The bride will be recognized as our fair Knight's Landing correspondent, whom we fear is now lost to our readers as a contributor; and the bridegroom as the brave Bob. Dedman who saved the life of Lieut. Gov. Denver, of Nevada, when the prisoners attacked the officers in making their escape from the prison at Carson about two years ago. We acknowledge receipt of wedding compliments, and trust there is much joy in store for the happy couple.

In Woodland, April 27th, by Rev. Father Gallagher, John Collier to Miss Hannah Donoghue.

DIED.

At Buckeye, May 1st, Robert C. Briggs, aged 57 years 9 months and 25 days.

Deceased has been ill for several months. He was one of the oldest settlers of Yolo county, and also one of the wealthiest. The funeral will take place at the Christian Church in this place on Saturday (to-morrow) at 11 o'clock. Friends of the family and the public are invited to attend.

ATLANTIC Lead, Linseed Oil, Paints in quantity, also Paint Brushes, at E. BYNUM & CO'S.

ANOTHER BUSINESS HOUSE.—Mr. F. M. Hall, being out of business, and while making a visit lately with friends here, concluded that Woodland was a good place to establish himself in for the future. With this determination he has rented the new brick store next door west of the Bank, and is stocking it with stoves, tinware, shelf hardware, etc., as will be seen by his card elsewhere. The location is a good one, and unless there is a failure of crops we have no doubt Mr. Hall will fully realize his business expectations.

WHOLESALE HOUSE.—We learn that the store in the west end of the row of nine stores now being built on the college lot has been leased by a San Francisco firm for a wholesale dry goods house and that an addition of twenty feet will be put on the rear end. The balance of the row is nearly all spoken for and will soon be occupied if the crops do not fail, which we think they cannot entirely.

STILL ANOTHER.—We call attention to the new advertisement of L. Kaminsky & Co., who are about to commence business in the store for several years occupied by Selig Hyman. The new firm are represented to us as entirely reliable and trustworthy business men. They will open about the 15th instant.

Religious Services.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH—Elder J. N. Pendegast. Services at the Chapel every Sunday at 11 A.M. and 7.00 P. M. Sunday School at 9 A. M. Prayer meeting every Thursday evening at 7.00.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Preaching every Sunday, in Central Hall, by Rev. S. R. Rosboro, at 11 A. M. and 6:30 P. M. All are invited. Sabbath School immediately after the morning services.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Rev. A. R. Sheriff, Pastor. Preaching every Sunday at 11 A. M. and 7.00 P. M. Seats free. Sunday School at 9.30 A. M. Prayer-meeting, Thursday evening at 7.00, and Class-meeting on Monday evening at 7.00 o'clock, at the Church.

CATHOLIC CHURCH.—Mass will be celebrated in the Court House, Woodland, at 11:30 A. M., on the first, third and fourth Sundays, and in Davisville on the second Sunday of each month.

Courts of Yolo County:

DISTRICT COURT—Hon. Lewis Ramage, Judge; D. Schindler, Clerk. Regular Terms commence on the third Monday in May, September and January.

COUNTY COURT—Hon. J. A. Hutton, Judge; D. Schindler, Clerk. Regular terms, on the first Monday in January, April, July and October.

PROBATE COURT—Hon. J. A. Hutton, Judge; D. Schindler, Clerk. Regular terms, same as County Court.

Board of Supervisors.

Geo. H. Swingle, President; E. Roberts, R. Megowan. Regular meetings, on the first Monday in February, May, August and November.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Card to the Suffering.

The writer of this notice will cheerfully send (free of charge) to all who request it, the RECEIPE for making and successfully using a very simple VEGETABLE REMEDY, that will be found a positive and Speedy cure for nervous debility, premature decay, loss of vitality and all forms of nervous affections, and the evils and disastrous consequences that follow in their train.

This remedy is entirely a product of the vegetable world. Its component parts are simple as nature herself is simple—harmless toward nature, yet powerful in opposing and eradicating disease. Consumptives, despondent and debilitated Nervous sufferers, do not fail to give this remedy a trial. It may save you from a life of misery or a premature grave. Letters of inquiry answered by return mail. Those who feel disposed will oblige by stating their symptoms—by so doing, beneficial suggestions may often be made. Address,

EDWARD BURNETT,
Tropical Nurseries, Albany, N. Y.

N.B.—Those suffering with incipient Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, &c., &c., will find speedy and permanent relief in the above mentioned remedy.

It is at least worthy a trial, as the cost is nominally nothing. Respectfully, fe22-8t EDWARD BURNETT.

IT is a well-known fact that Dyspepsia and Indigestion are the causes of nearly all the diseases that the human body is heir to; then why pay enormous doctors bills? By using Dr. Henley's celebrated X L Bitters they can be thoroughly eradicated from the system and new life imparted to the sufferer. Read physicians certificates in advertisement in another column. mh8-3m

THE ILLUSTRATED PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL!

VOLUME FIFTY-SIX, 1873.

THE SCIENCE OF MIND is the central point around which revolves the whole circle of science. It is the key to universal knowledge, and SELF KNOWLEDGE is the key to the Science of Mind.

PHRENOLOGY, the basis of Mental Philosophy. Shows how human character and capacity are related to the universal laws; and how humanity is harmonized with Divinity.

"KNOW THYSELF"—This Delphian sage inscribed these immortal words on the Temple of Delphi, the world has struggled toward a solution of the problems of human existence.

THE ORIGIN OF RACES, involving the Origin of Life, earnestly discussed by Ethnologists and Physiologists, cannot fail to interest the truth-seeker.

PHYSIOLOGY AND PSYCHOLOGY are prominent features; embracing the subject of Soul, Mind, Bodily Structures and Functions, Social Relations, Education, Religion, Criminal Jurisprudence, etc.

PHYSIOGNOMY AND TEMPERAMENTS, Signs of Character, Peculiarities of Organization considered, with illustrations from life.

SELF-IMPROVEMENT.—All the gains of Science and Art should be applied to perfecting ourselves and improving the race.

HAPPY HOMES are the result of a normal education and development, and a life according to the laws of life.

THE PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL FOR 1873 will keep pace with the march of events. Scientific, Social and Political, and seek to declare the good and true.

The Seven Wonders of the World.

Although every school boy and girl in the land have read of the "seven wonders of the world," and every person of any intelligence has either read or heard of them, the New York Star thinks that ninety-nine persons out of a hundred who might be asked the question could not name them. They are the pyramids—the mystery of the past—the enigma of the present—and the enduring for the future ages of this world. The temple, the walls and hanging gardens of Babylon, the most celebrated city of Assyria, and the residence of the kings of that country after the destruction of Nineveh. The Chryselephantine statue of Jupiter Olympius, the most renowned work of Phidias, the illustrious artist of Greece. The statue was formed of gold, and was sitting on a throne almost touching the summit of the temple, which was seventy feet high. The Temple of Diana at Ephesus, which was 220 years in building and which was 425 feet in length and 220 in breadth and supported by 127 marble columns of the Ionic order, 60 feet high. The Mausoleum at Halicarnassus, erected in the memory of Mausolus, the King of Caria, by his wife Artemesia, B. C. 353. The Pharos at Alexandria, a light house erected by Ptolemy Soter at the entrance of the harbor of Alexandria. It was 450 feet high, and could be seen at a distance of 100 miles, and upon which was inscribed "King Ptolemy to the gods, the saviours, for the benefit of sailors." Lastly, the Colussus at Rhodes, a brazen image of Apollo, 105 Grecian feet in height, and which was located at the entrance of one of the harbors of the city of Rhodes.

DESCRIPTION OF THE LAVA BEDS. Professor Hayden, the United States Geologist who explored the lava beds, has laid before the President maps and photographs of that region, and the Professor, together with his Assistant Superintendent, James Stevenson, will have an interview with Mr. Delano, and will give their personal recollections and characteristics of the lava beds. They extend irregularly all the way from about the three tillers west to the Pacific Ocean, about six hundred miles. They are covered with sagebrush and small vegetation, and abound in small game, being peculiar for the multitudes of rabbits and large lizards that take refuge in holes and the crevices of the rocks. The rock is of basaltic formation that appears to have been cast upon the bed of some lake, and is cracked in all directions, until it forms a net-work of fissures varying in depth from ten to sixty feet. Large numbers of tributaries of the Columbia river flow through this region, and the water washes out the soft formation beneath the rock, and great caverns are found extending for miles around the opening at various places into the fissures in the rock. In one instance a river has been traced some sixty miles beneath these lava beds without ever appearing within sight of the surface. The sides of the fissures in the rock are generally rough and irregular, so as to afford a good foothold in ascending and descending from the cracks and caverns.

CALIFORNIA TIMBER.—We heard an experienced wagon maker, who is now at the head of the largest factory for the manufactory of agricultural implements in the State, remark a few days since, that the timber of the second growth of oaks along our river bottoms, is by far better for wheel hubs, spokes and many other parts of the wagon, than the timber of the large oaks of the Western States, so extensively and almost exclusively used for this purpose by Western manufacturers. He said he spoke from actual experiment, and could prove what he asserted. The Sacramento Valley Beet Sugar Company are now manufacturing their own barrels from cottonwood, which makes most excellent staves, and imparts no bad taste to the sugar. Coopers are now buying up the mulberry for hoop poles, and say they are a most excellent substitute for hickory. The mulberry is also very nearly equal if not superior to the redwood for fence posts, and we know of parties who are growing it extensively for that purpose. California grown locust is said to be equal to that grown in any of the Atlantic States, and is a most excellent timber for wagon material. There are trucks now in use in this city that have been used for years without the necessity of "tire-setting," the hubs and spokes being made of California grown locust.—Sacramento Record.

A BEAUTIFUL RETROSPECT.—When the summer day of youth is slowly wasting away into the nightfall of age, and the shadows of the past year grow deeper and deeper as life wears to a close, it is pleasant to look back through the vistas of time upon the joys and sorrows of early years. If we have a home to shelter, or hearts to rejoice with us, and friends who have been gathering around our fireside, then the rough places of our wayfaring will be worn and smoothed away in the twilight of life, while the bright sunny spots we have passed through will grow brighter and more beautiful. Happy, indeed, are those whose intercourse with the world has not changed the course of their holier feeling, or broken those musical chords of the heart whose vibrations are so melodious, so tender and so touching in the evening of age.

HARD ON COLFAX AND POMEROY.—Grace Greenwood, in writing from Washington of the devious devices resorted to by Colfax and Pomeroy, says: "The unsatisfactory nature of their explanations, the failure of our great expectations, the precarious condition in which honorable gentlemen are left, after all their frantic efforts to 'set' themselves right before the country, reminds me of the mournful foundering of a Mississippi steamboat, as described by an eye witness:

"She hove and sot, and sot and hove,
And high her rudder flung—
And every time she hove and sot,
A wusser leak she sprung."

A cannon weighing 1,950 pounds has arrived from Berlin, having been presented by the Emperor William to the Lutheran Church at Titusville, Penn. It was captured at Sedan, and is to be cast into a bell for the above mentioned church.

THE spread of the horse disease in San Francisco and the illness of nearly 3,000 horses has caused between 5,000 and 10,000 men to be idle. Not because there is not work to do but because it cannot be done without the assistance of animals.

Plantation Bitters

S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful Vegetable Restorative is the sheet anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid, it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

LYON'S KATHAIRON,

For Preserving and Beautifying the Human Hair, to Prevent its Falling out and Turning Gray.

A well-preserved Head of Hair, in a person of middle age, at once bespeaks refinement, elegance, health and beauty. It may truly be called Woman's Crowning glory, while men are not insensible to its advantages and charms. Few things are more disgusting than thin, frizzly, harsh, untamed Hair, with head and coat covered with Dandruff. Visit a Barber and you feel and look like a new man. This is what LYON'S KATHAIRON will do all the time. The charm which lies in well placed Hair, Glossy Curls, Luxuriant Tresses and a Clean Head, is noticeable and irresistible. VINEGAR BITTERS

☞ No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing the merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, and in Bilious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

The best Liver Regulator known!

A sure Cure for Dyspepsia!

A most Efficient and Pleasant Tonic.

These Bitters are prepared from the most choice and wholesome herbs and roots, and have given universal satisfaction wherever tried. Thousands of dyspeptics have found relief through their use, and physicians recommend them for the cure of all diseases of the blood and liver, and irregularities of the digestive organs.

Headache, Biliousness, and Constipation, General Debility and Loss of Appetite, are all caused by the derangement of the Stomach, Liver and other functionaries of the system. The I X L bitters have been successfully used and are warranted to alleviate the sufferer in all the above cases.

☞ The I X L Bitters are sold only in glass; to sell other than the genuine article out of our bottles is felony, and we will, when detected, prosecute such parties to the full extent of the law.

CERTIFICATES.

MESSRS. H. EPSTEIN & Co.

Gentlemen: I take pleasure in stating that agreeably to your wish I have carefully tested and examined the sample of your I X L Bitters, which you sent me, and find it not only an agreeable Bitters, but also one that cannot fail to be beneficial as a tonic and promoter of Digestion.

CITY AND COUNTY HOSPITAL,
San Francisco, June 20th, 1871.

I have carefully examined Dr. Henley's I X L Bitters, and have failed to detect anything which could injure even the most delicate constitution. From the composition of the Bitters, as far as I am able to determine it, I should judge that the I X L Bitters must be a very efficient remedy in Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and similar complaints, being composed of a number of vegetable drugs which are principally used in diseases of that nature, and are of the greatest efficacy in their cure.

HEALTH! BEAUTY!!

STRONG AND PURE RICH BLOOD—INCREASE OF FLESH AND WEIGHT—CLEAR SKIN AND BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION SECURED TO ALL.

DR. RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT

HAS MADE THE MOST ASTONISHING CURES! SO QUICK, SO RAPID ARE THE CHANGES THE BODY UNDERGOES UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF THIS TRULY WONDERFUL MEDICINE, THAT

Every Day an Increase in Flesh and Weight is Seen and Felt.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life; for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular Diseases, Ulcers in the Throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumous Discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Ache, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm, and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove, to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the waste with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney & Bladder Complaints,

Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick-dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins. Price, $1.00.

BEVERLY, MASS., July 18, 1871.

DR. RADWAY:—I have had Ovarian Tumor in the stomach and bowels. All the Doctors said "there was no help for it." I tried every thing that was recommended; but nothing helped me. I saw your Resolvent, and thought I would try it. I did so. I took six bottles in it, because I had suffered for twelve years. I took six bottles of the Resolvent, and one box of Radway's Pills, and two bottles of your Ready Relief, and there is not a trace of tumor to be seen or felt, and I feel better, smarter, and happier than I have for twelve years. The tumor was in the left side of the bowels, over the groin. I write this to you for the benefit of others. You can publish it if you choose.
